SOCIAL VIKINGS

CHRISTMAS CHOCOLATE

A Christmas tree in the lounge helps set the mood for vacation.

Mrs. Dorothy Fenwick, left, initiated Bloom's first Christmas Chocolate. Dean Martin seems to think it was a good idea.

Gloria Veldhuizen get caught sneaking another cookie at the Christmas Chocolate. Freshmen honor coeds served as hostesses for the occasion which will now become an annual event at BCC.

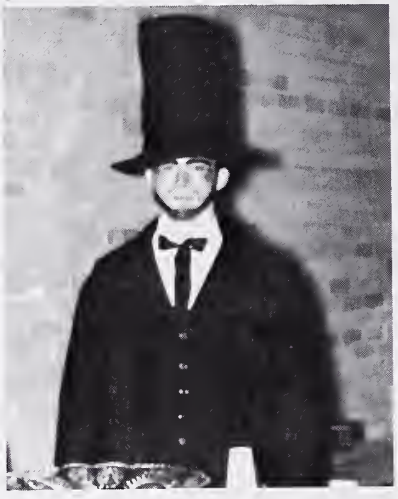
Spring Formal candidates for 1964 found themselves a bit unprepared for picture-taking. The court included Sharon Lustig, Gloria Veldhuizen, Lynette Bonick, Cheryl Piacenti, Rosann Costello. Lynette reigned as queen of the Dinner-dance held at the Hotel Allerton in Chicago.

Here we are! Fresh from Paris.

Was he the one who stole your balloon?

HALLOWE'EN DANCE

Don't forget Darlink, . . . we leave before sunrise.



Four shots and seven beers ago . . .

Where's the watermelon?

Snow Ball flakes out . . .

SNOWBALL

When the SAINTS go marching in . . .

Snowball Dance King and Queen pose with court members. (Left to right) Nancy Petrolli, Bob Leach, Bonnie Millen, Dennis Rehberg, King Jim Ammirati, Queen Sharon Lustig, John Ferrari, Lynnette Gianetti, Nancy Wozniak, and Stephen Harvey.

Highlight of the dance was the crowning of Queen Sharon Lustig by Nic Foster.

Sharon and Jim lead the coronation dance.

Gee, Carol, he looks harmless.

Man! That's real lemon juice!

Denny, you're such a tease.

Mrs. Sample evokes a variety of reactions in social science class.

CLASSROOM CANDIDS

The fate of old newspapers: a surface on which to dissect fish in biology class.

Did you find it?

Oops!!

ATHLETICS

Cheerleaders for 1964-65 school year are from left to right: Julie Donovan, Bonnie Millen, Pat Caffarelli, Sharon Lustig, Diana Kukral.

CHEERLEADERS

Julie cheers team on to victory.

Oh, come on now! We won?

Seriously, there is no game tonight?

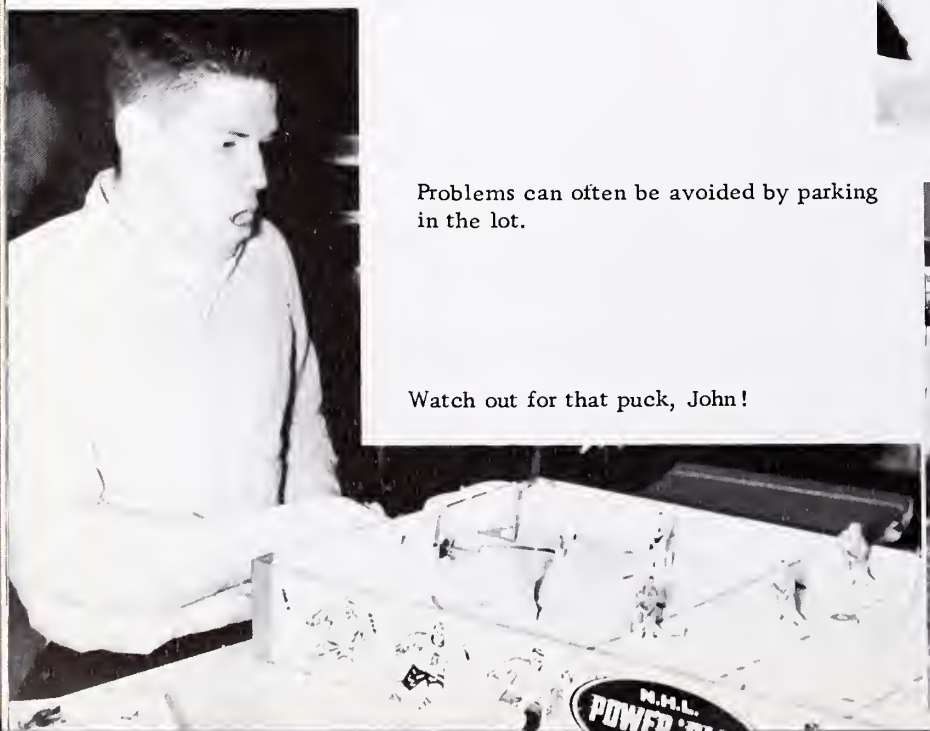
Time is called and the cheerleaders take over the floor.

Jim Galbraith awards ping-pong trophy to tournament winner John Patti.

Strike!

Diana Kukral seems a bit envious of Nancy Wozniak's bowling skill.

FUN AND GAMES



Watch out for that puck, John!

Problems can often be avoided by parking in the lot.

The 1964-65 Bloom basketball team, with coach Tom Deem at far right.

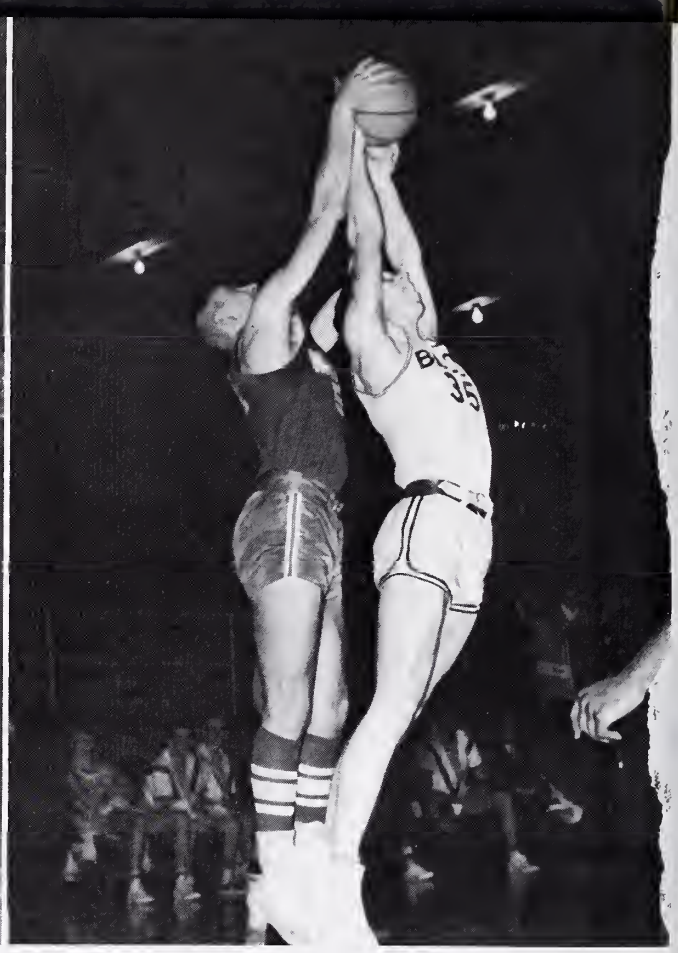
"Is it a hit or a miss?"

The 1964-65 basketball season was a building year at Bloom C.C. Although it was a losing season, it was one of the best Bloom has had. The season ended with 6 wins and 13 losses. Bruce Hodges led the scoring with an average of 24.5 points per game. Behind him were Howard Corey with 16.0 and Kevin Moynihan with 14.4 points per game. Bruce ranked second in average points per game in NJCAA region IV.

Bloom will retain all its players for the 1965-66 season except Howard Corey, Allen Barbour and John Stevens. Coach Tom Deem expressed the opinion that the team has good chance for a better record next season. It is hoped that a number of high school players will attend Bloom next fall and help build its basketball reputation.

Most of the opposing coaches commented that Bloom had a good ball club and that all it needed was a tall center to put it in contention for first place.

Keep it up, Bloom!



Hey! That's MY ball!

Kevin Moynihan tries again!

LIBRARY

The three library assistants, who seem to enjoy their work, are (l to r) Julie Donovan, Debbie Trout and Nancy Wozniak.

CLERICAL STAFF

Bloom's secretaries, Mrs. Virginia Montesonti and Mrs. Eleanor Topoulos, seem to be enjoying some campus humor while head Custodian Percy LeVault seems to be trying to figure out the punch line.

The college choir sings at graduation ceremonies for the class of 1964.

Occupational therapy in journalism class.

John Ferrari and Tom Oldenburg help out at the pep assembly for the game against Wilson. Maybe they were too good: Wilson won.

DENTAL ASSISTING

Mrs. Shirley Thompson, instructor (far left) explains a dental procedure to Donna Kush as the patient; Kathy McGuinness and Mary Ann Harwick, the students.

The Dental Assisting Class of 1964 is introduced to Mrs. Johnson, president of the South Suburban Dental Assistand Association, by Mrs. Shirley Thompson.

Mrs. Mary Jane Gebhardt was voted by the staff of the Dental Assisting Educational program as the outstanding student in the class. Mrs. Johnson is seen capping Mrs. Gebhardt.

ABOVE, Dean Albert Martin expresses his delight in having a dental assisting program at Bloom to the audience in the May capping ceremony.

Helmi Jung, Barbara Brown, and Arlene Reuter are waiting to be served by Mrs. Myron Bardige.

Mrs. Janet Lindenberg, president of the Illinois Dental Assistant Association, presents the association's award for the outstanding student in the Bloom program to Mrs. Mary Jane Gebhardt.

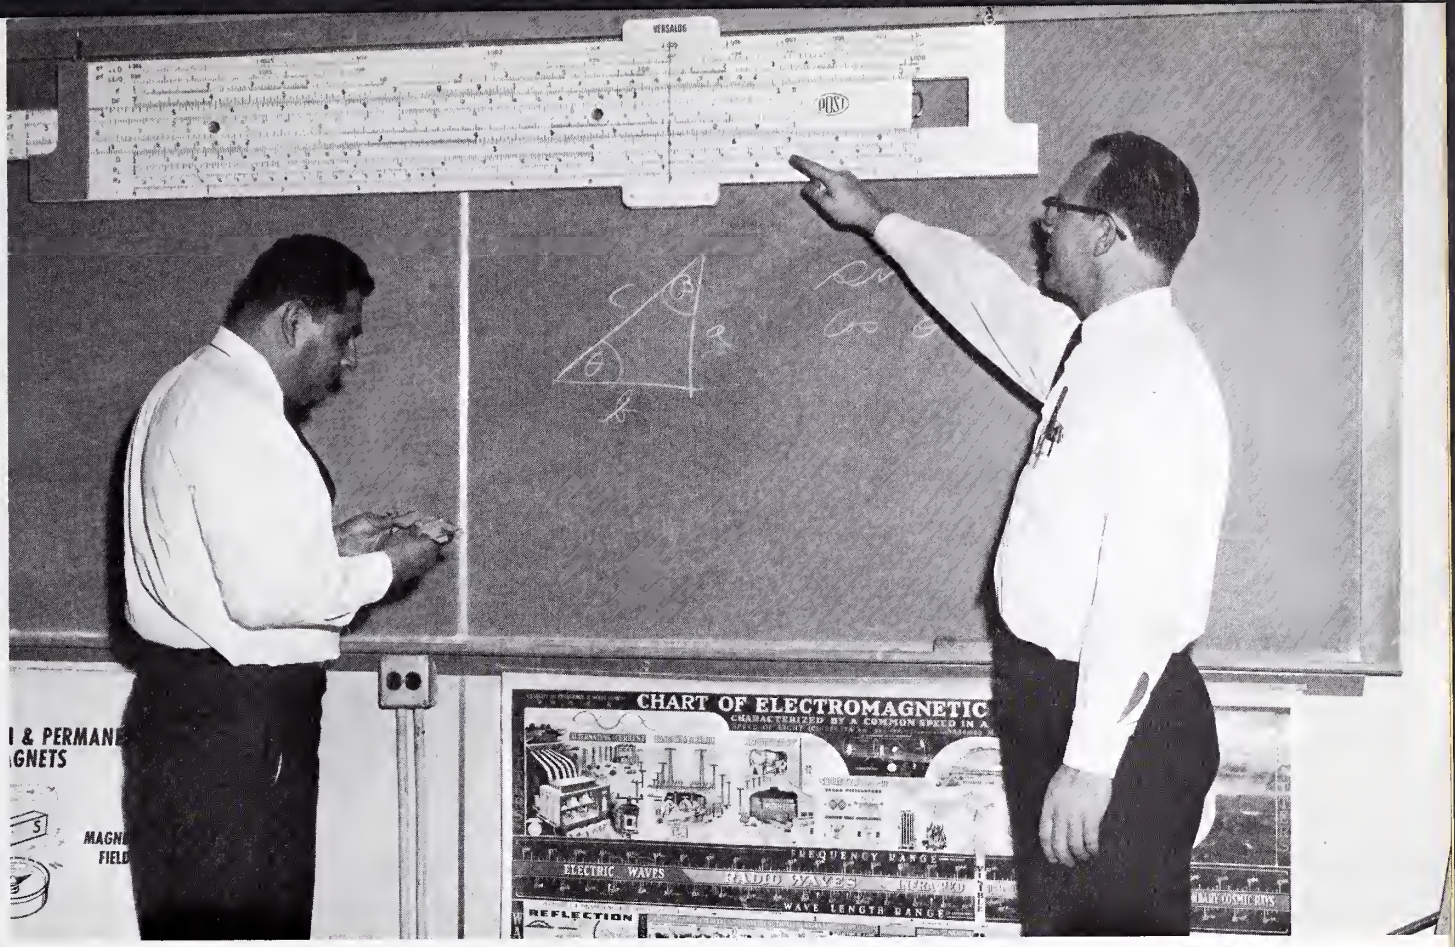
MIXED EMOTIONS

I KNOW IT CAUSES CAVITIES,
----- but I'm only human.

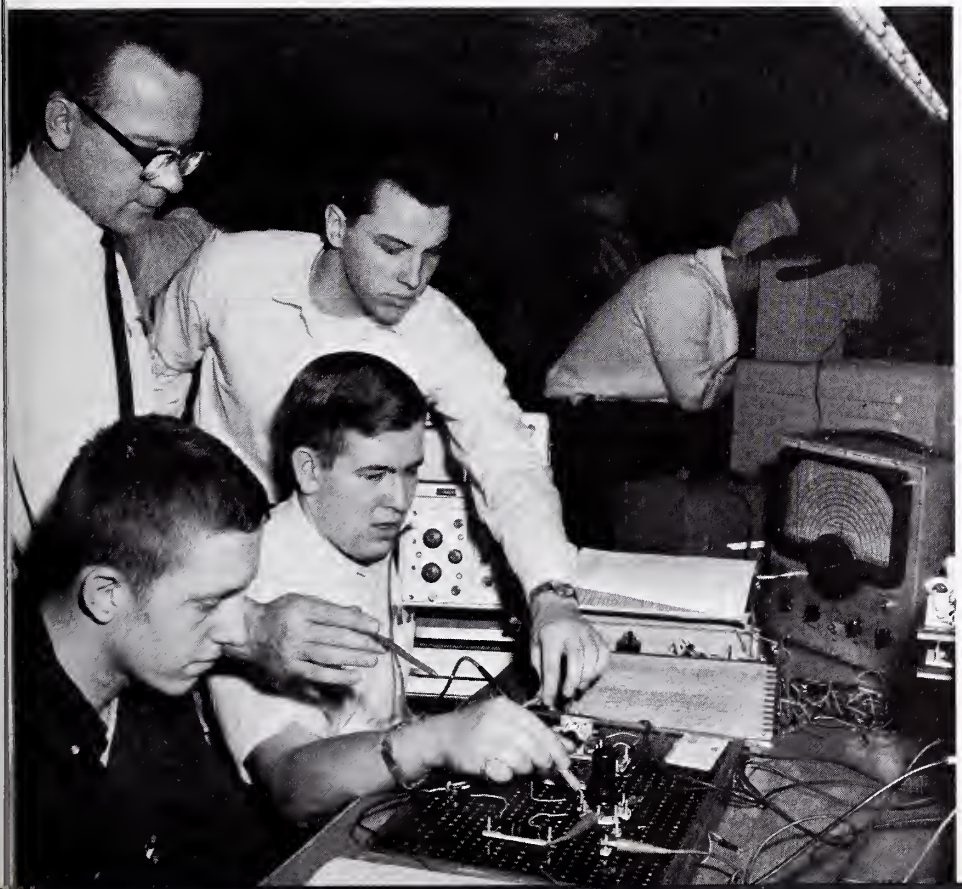
Dr. Myron Bardige, director of the dental assisting program, believes in using humor to make his point. This photo was taken from his 1965 brochure on "Dental Assisting as a College Discipline."

Mrs. Shirley Thompson, CDA
Instructor



Evening instructor, Mr. Diefenthlaer, demonstrates the use of the slide rule to a student in the electronics program.

ELECTRONICS



Mr. Diefenthaler explains some of the intricate electronics equipment to Bloom students in the Industrial Arts Building.

Mr. Lloyd Austin, instructor in the evening program demonstrates the use of the Hickok teaching systems machine.

Representatives from the Illinois Department of Education and local industrial leaders meet with Dean Martin and Mr. Petersanti to discuss Bloom's mechanical technology program.

Students, with aid from instructor, work with equipment.

A fundamental part of the electronics course is its heavy investment in equipment, as illustrated by a variety of oscillators.

The 1964 sophomore dinner was held at Savoia's.

SOPHOMORE DINNER

Except for Mr. Versypt, the faculty guests seemed to enjoy themselves.

Dr. Dale Collins, president of Bloom's Board of Education, awards the valedictorian trophy to Donald Bacon.

Dr. Harold H. Metcalf addresses the graduates.

CLASS OF 64

Catherine Bland receives her salutatorian trophy from Dr. Collins.

Graduates are presented their diplomas.

Dr. Frank Endicott, Director of Placement at Northwestern University, addresses students and guests.
